Foundation Attends AOA Conference in Coronado

In early January, several Foundation employees attended the annual Auxiliary Organization Association (AOA) conference at Loews Coronado Bay Resort in Coronado, CA. Each year, directors, managers and other personnel from California State University (CSU) auxiliary organizations come together to listen to keynote speakers, participate in general learning sessions, seek professional development and join in networking opportunities. This year’s theme was “Celebrating AOA’s Past and Promising Future,” as the AOA celebrates 50 years and counting.

This year, the Foundation was proud to have one of its largest group of employees participate and present in their area of expertise.

Senior Managing Director and CFO David Prenovost and Director of Dining Services Aaron Neilson gave their insights on pouring rights at the Commerical Services Committee Meeting. Director of Information Technology Randy Townsend and Information Systems Analyst Alfred Padilla partnered to host a session titled “Frictionless Point of Sale: Taking Kiosks to the Next Level;” introducing technologies in the Point of Sale/Point of Service arena designed to save time, money and drive innovation. Finally, Aaron and Dining Services Purchasing Manager Claudia Aguilar contributed to a case-study discussion on dining Sustainability Programs “Dining Food Procurement Strategy: A Case Study Proof-of-Concept.” The event was tied off with an invigorating team building workshop from our friends Susan Leahy and Freeman Michaels from Group to Team Leadership Solutions.

We want to congratulate Aaron, who was elected as Vice-Chair of the 2020 AOA Commercial Services Committee, as well as Randy and David, both of whom received certificates of appreciation for their contributions to the AOA.
