Happy Independence Day!
A Farewell to Foundation Executive Director G. Paul Storey

Paul G. Storey has dedicated 22 years to the Cal Poly Pomona Foundation and the announcement of his retirement was bittersweet for the Foundation.

As Paul retires, he will take a part of the Foundation with him. Paul is loved by so many and has contributed hard work and genuine friendship. All who have worked beside Paul can agree that he is a magnificent person who cares about the students at Cal Poly Pomona.

To appreciate all of Paul’s wonderful qualities, the Foundation spent the entire month of June embracing his work. Throughout the month of June, the Foundation celebrated Paul-themed Wednesdays including Orange Day (Go Volunteers!), Bronco Gear Day, Dress as a Retiree Day, Pizza with Paul Day and a retirement party held at Kellogg West.

Paul’s retirement celebration at Kellogg West was an emotional evening as he said goodbye to Cal Poly Pomona. The room was filled with both past and present Foundation and Cal Poly Pomona faculty and staff to celebrate Paul and his accomplishments. It was a gathering for all to reminisce on great times with Paul as well as wish him luck with his retirement. During the evening, a slide show of Paul’s career at the Foundation was shown, bringing laughter and joy to all in attendance. A farewell video from everyone at the Foundation was also premiered leaving not a single dry eye in the room.

The event allowed members of the Cal Poly Pomona community a chance to say their goodbyes. Featured speakers included President Coley, Mike Ortiz, Ed Barnes, David Prenovost, Dennis Miller, Edwin Santiago and David Speak. Paul was delighted with the celebration and was appreciative of all who attended.

Thank you for everything Paul! You will be missed.

The Pomona Chamber of Commerce has selected Foundation Director Sandra Vaughn-Acton as the Chair of the Board of Directors for the 2017-2018 year.

On June 27th the Pomona Chamber of Commerce held its annual installation and award event. The event included awards to businesses and individuals who have been impactful to the Chamber and the City of Pomona in the past year. They also honored the Cal Poly Pomona Foundation Director of Real Estate Development, Sandra Vaughan-Acton with the opportunity to lead the chamber in the next year as its Chairman. Sandy has served on the board of directors representing the Cal Poly Pomona campus since 2012 and was instrumental in re-energizing the Chamber’s annual Legislator’s Luncheon along with Erica Frausto, Chamber CEO and Jill Dolan of Mount San Antonio College who is the outgoing Chair of the Chamber.

Below is a portion of Sandra Vaughn-Acton’s message to those in attendance:

“I am humbled and honored to accept the invitation to serve as the Chair of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors for 2017–2018. I am following in the footsteps of our most recent Chair and my friend, Jill Dolan, and I thank her for not only what she has given the Chamber this last year as Chair for a second term, but the many years that she has served this community.

What some of you don’t know is that Pomona was my home back in the late 80’s and early 90’s. My husband and I bought our first home in the Westmont Community, just off Phillips Drive and the 71 freeway. We lived in that community quite a few years, including our first year as new parents. I have fond memories of those years – Pomona is part of my personal journey as well as my professional career. As Director of Real Estate Development at the Cal Poly Pomona Foundation, I now give back to my former city of residence through the development of Innovation Village on the campus of Cal Poly Pomona. And now, I get to serve in yet another capacity - representing Cal Poly Pomona on the Chamber Board and working with the board to further our mission to support business and business development for the City of Pomona. I am coming full circle in a way and I couldn’t be more proud to do so.

It is with an eye on tomorrow that I take the reins of the Chamber and work with my friends on the board to reach its highest potential because that is what we are called to as leaders, aren’t we? We are all leaders in one way or another and we all have a stake in the successes of Pomona and want to see the City reach its greatest potential. With that focus, I welcome everyone who wishes to accept this invitation to join us in doing the good work we do.”
June at the University Village: Move-Out Day

During the end of finals week, the University Village staff set up for Move-Out Day where residents returned their keys and officially checked out of the Village. Approximately 1,043 residents were moved out over the course of finals week, but the official move-out day took place on Saturday, June 10.

Once all residents were moved out of their apartment space, a team of Village staff members went through each apartment to inspect for damages and any needed cleaning. The teams consisted of one full-time staff member, a couple of student staff members, and a Facilities staff member. Each team was assigned a set of apartments to inspect for any damages as well as clean the apartments to get them ready for summer move-ins. Inspection forms were completed and submitted to the operations staff who then assessed any necessary charges to residents to close out each resident account. While we certainly did come across a couple of messy apartments, we were all greatly impressed with the condition of the apartments this year after move-out! The annual June Move-Out Day was a success and although they were a few delays everything went smoothly.

While occupancy usually fluctuates throughout the year as residents move out and new residents move in, the University Village general occupancy for the year hovered around 99% occupancy which is around 1,235 residents. Currently, for the summer season, there are just under 300 students licensed for their apartments. Additionally, there are about 5 conference groups staying at the Village over the course of summer.

As the academic year came to a close, we said goodbye to our student leader staff of resident advisors, managerial assistants, community and student life advocates, health and wellness advisors, and sustainability advisors who all brought energy and commitment to the Village. However, with every goodbye is a hello as we welcome our incoming summer resident advisors.

Bronco Bookstore to Undergo Renovations

As a general rule, retail selling space should be refreshed about every 10 years or as needed. The last refresh of the Bronco Bookstore was just about 10 years ago which means it is time for an upgrade! The Bronco Bookstore sales 10 years ago were 75% course materials and that has transitioned to a mix of 56% course materials and 44% general merchandise.

The main reasons for this are the following:

- There are several options of where to buy course materials that are efficient
- Lower overall prices due to rentals and non-printed content
- Significant increase in demand for emblematic merchandise from the campus community and Pomona
- Significant increase in demand for general merchandise

Due to sales being a combination of both course materials and general merchandise, more space needs to be made in order to create room for the Bookstore’s biggest selling items.

The Bronco Bookstore remodeling will take place on the lower floor. Renovation on the lower floor will increase sales floor square footage as well as increase the efficiency and speed of transactions during the first couple weeks of classes. The remodel will consist of moving offices to create more sales floor space and updating fixtures for consistency. The temporary rush registers will also be rearranged for easier access and a better queue.
Innovation Brew Works Moves On in Battle of the Brews Competition

Innovation Brew Works has moved on to the second round of their first “Battle of the Brews” competition. IBW knocked out Sanctum Brewing Company of Pomona and is now moving on to compete against Wicks Brewing of Riverside. The battle will take place on September 3, 2017.

“We have a few potential battles to go before we would make the finals but we are pleased with our performance thus far,” says Innovation Brew Works head brewer Richard Thompson. “We are not as well-known as the other breweries and are trying to prove that we have something to offer. This is a fun, local competition and I hope we can put Innovation on the map.”

Battle of the Brews is a competition of 16 different breweries from surrounding cities. Two different breweries go head to head every weekend providing 3 beers each in a blind tasting. At the very end of the day, votes are counted and the winner of the round advances through a single elimination bracket.

Battle of the Brews is held at the top of Mt. Baldy giving all in attendance a scenic chairlift ride to the top accompanied by beautiful mountain views.

Construction of Los Olivos Dining Commons Replacement Building

The new Los Olivos building is set to open in August 2019. The construction is set to take approximately two years.

With construction taking place, do not be alarmed! You will still be able to enjoy everything Los Olivos has to offer until the opening of the new building. The new dining commons will accommodate additional students who will be living in future housing structures. The addition of this new building will provide more space and food options for all.

Along with a new look, the building will feature great restaurant style food prepared for individual plating. New menu items are currently in the works, but the confirmed stations are Grill, Global, Sandwich/Panini, Sushi, Pizza, and Dessert.

The new dining area hopes to integrate more plant-based proteins and incorporate robust flavors from around the world. Several different options are to be offered making the construction of the new and approved Los Olivos something to be excited about.
Graduation Merchandise Sales Increase for the third year-in-a-row!

The Bronco Bookstore had three locations open at each of the 2017 graduation ceremonies—one at the Campus Center Marketplace and a tent located near Building 94 were both there as usual. The tent footprint increased about 85% compared to last year and it was the largest setup size to date. In addition, the Bronco Bookstore was open during Commencement for the first time.

With three different many shopping locations open, family and friends were able to buy last-minute emblematic gifts for their grads including license plate frames, mugs and tumblers, pen sets, t-shirts, sweatshirts, and more. Representatives from Jostens were also present for grads to order a diploma frame or class ring.

Summer Hours/Bookstore Welcomes Orientation Groups

The Bronco Bookstore will be open from Monday through Thursday until August 24th, and our hours are 9:00AM – 5:00PM. During this time, select Bronco Gear will be on sale for the orientation groups that will be passing through. Drop by and check out what we have to offer!
Michael Luis has been a Kellogg West employee since September 29, 2016. Michael is supportive of any operational changes to the Kellogg West operation. He is a versatile staff member and has the ability to perform several duties such as catering server, event set up, coffee break server, coffee set up and other tasks as requested.

In his short time at Kellogg West, Michael’s attendance has been excellent and he is consistently professional and friendly to our guests and coworkers alike. Michael is self-motivated and has proven to be willing to assist the culinary and facilities operation at any given time.

It is a joy for the Kellogg West operation to award Michael Luis the May 2017 employee of the month.

Sincerely,

Oscar Villanueva

The Foundation Board of Directors approved an endowment distribution of $2.5 million to be distributed in June and July 2017 in the amounts of $962,823 and $1,531,998 respectively. The two endowment distributions are based upon the new Board approved distribution policy recommended by the Investment Committee which should provide for more consistent annual distributions over time. Endowments with specific distribution terms and conditions were not included in the new Board approved distribution policy. As you may recall, the prior distribution policy allowed for a 5% distribution of the endowment value on June 30th. The new distribution policy allows for a 4% distribution of the endowment moving average over 12 quarters ending December 31st. Distributions are allowable from earnings only, no corpus or principal is allowed to be distributed unless stated otherwise in the endowment terms and conditions.

Accordingly, an individual endowment’s actual distribution rate may be less than the effective distribution rate if available earnings are not sufficient to distribute. The effective rate is calculated by dividing the amount to be distributed by the endowment value at December. To mitigate fluctuations in the effective distribution rate, the new policy places collars around the rate allowing for no greater than 5% or less than 3% distributions. For your reference, following is a chart of the endowment distributions and earnings since 2002. Finally, the new policy does not allow for loans to scholarship endowment programs which were repaid from future endowment earnings. This was seldom used and only a few scholarship programs did obtain Board approval for such loans during the recovery from the Great Recession in 2009 and 2010 when there were no distributions in two consecutive years.

For the nine months ended, March 2017, the endowment portfolio returned 10.35% versus the benchmark of 9.46% mainly due to the fixed income asset class that returned 4.33% compared to the Barclays Aggregate benchmark that lost 1.73%. The benchmark includes U.S. Treasuries that have not performed well during periods of rising interest rates. The Public Equities (Domestic, Global, and Foreign) returned 12.85% versus the MSCI AC World Net Index that returned 13.91% mainly due to the performance of the International and Emerging Market Equities that returned 11.03% versus the MSCI AC World xUS Net index that returned 13.87%.

Innovation Brew Works Home Brew Competition Winners Announced

Innovation Brew Works hosted their first-ever home brew competition and announced the winners on June 12. The unveiling of the winners took place at 7 p.m. where all winners were presented with trophies. Those who did not win, but were present, were able to get their score sheets from the competition with feedback from the judges.

With a total of 45 entries and 34 different styles entered, the decision was a tough choice. The top three entries were all scored within one point of each other (rated between 42 and 43 of a possible 50).

The entries were sorted into categories of dark beers, light beers, and hoppy beers. Each category was judged by a panel of 2 to 3 people. The judges included volunteers (brewers, owners, lab techs) from neighboring breweries, IBW head brewer Richard Thompson, and the teaching staff from the home brew courses offered on the CPP campus.

The winners of the Innovation Brew Works home brew competition were:
- 1st Place – Stephen Juliar (Beer Style: Roggenbier)
- 2nd Place – Michael Hoccom (Beer Style: Fruit Beer)
- 3rd Place – Angel Vizcarra (Beer Style: New England Style Double IPA)

The 1st place winner, Stephen Juliar, will have his name displayed on a perpetual plaque on the brewery’s wall. Juliar will also have the opportunity to brew a large batch of his winning beer on the IBW 3.5 bbl. system with the assistance of the brewing team. His winning beer will be featured on draft at Innovation Brew Works during a special release party.

“The competition helped get Innovation Brew Works name out to craft beer drinkers in the community,” said Melody Young, manager at Innovation Brew Works.

The home brew competition was a success and received almost double the amount of entries predicted. Innovation Brew Works plans to make the home brew competition an annual event.
Real Estate Department Updates Economic Impact Analysis

The Cal Poly Pomona Foundation Real Estate Department has just completed an update on the Economic Impact Analysis initiated in 2011 with Stanley Hoffman and Associates. Now 65% complete, Innovation Village is a Public Private Partnership project utilizing 65 acres of campus land for the development of Innovation Village. The project is entitled to 1 million square feet of built product and now is home to approximately 2,100 employees – most of whom work for Southern California Edison’s Transmission and Distribution Business Unit. In addition to SCE, American Red Cross operates one of its largest blood collection and distribution operations in the country from its 210,000 sq. ft. building in the park.

Foundation Supports Alpha Pi Sigma Sorority

The Foundation supported the Alpha Pi Sigma Sorority by donating them a Subway lunch during their annual “Adelitas” conference. The mission of “Adelitas” is to promote higher education, cultural pride, and self-worth.

Alpha Pi Sigma is an organization that unites and supports Latina women on the Cal Poly Pomona campus through events such as “Adelitas.”
New Video Wall at Campus Center Marketplace

A 9-screen video wall has recently been unveiled in the Campus Center Marketplace near Panda Express. The wall was displayed during commencement week and streamed the ceremonies from inside Campus Center Marketplace.

The video wall was placed to give faculty and students an opportunity to see what is happening around campus with ads being shown throughout the day. The wall is intended to market product while also cutting back on the use of paper.

Two more video wall locations are currently being considered. The two possible locations will be in the Bronco Bookstore atrium and another in the Campus Center Marketplace near Taco Bell.

All screens used to create video wall were donated by the Logistics Team located in Walnut, CA. Logistics Team donated 29 screens, wall mount, and other equipment to help bring the video wall to life.

Pomona Chamber of Commerce Recognizes Innovation Brew Works and Innovation Village

The city of Pomona Chamber of Commerce has featured Innovation Brew Works in the “Craft Beers of Pomona” section of the newest edition of the Pomona’s Visitor Guide. The article highlights the brewery’s tagline of “Crafting an Education” as well as the learn-by-doing philosophy that Cal Poly Pomona takes pride in.

The City of Pomona’s Visitor Guide also features Cal Poly Pomona in the “Pomona Education” section. The section displays photos of Innovation Village and displays their tagline of “Creating Jobs for Pomona’s Future.” The article also provides brief information on the tenants that call Innovation Village their home.

Alex Hernandez Appointed New Assistant Marketing Director

Alex Hernandez, who was the Foundation Webmaster/Developer, has been promoted to Assistant Director of Marketing/Web as of June 5. Alex’s major responsibilities include digital signage, ADA website compliance, Dining Services/Bronco Bookstore mobile app and assisting with the marketing budget.

He will also assist Marketing Director Edwin Santiago with supervising the Marketing Department and managing the department work order system.

Alex is a Cal Poly Pomona alum and has been working for the Foundation since 2003.

“This promotion will allow me to take on more managerial responsibilities,” says Alex. “I am excited about the new video wall! It is a great way to communicate with students and cut down on the use of paper. I am looking forward to using it.”

Congratulations, Alex!

Mobile POS System Used For Commencement

The IT department debuted their Mobile POS system during the 2017 Commencement ceremonies. The system consisted of physical mobile registers that were able to give full reports of sales information.

The mobile POS system made transactions more convenient for both buyers and sellers. The use of the mobile POS systems was shown successful during the 2017 Commencement ceremonies and has opened doors for future use.

Employee Profile

Lisanne Wu

Job title: Marketing Coordinator

Length of employment: One month

I have a talent for ... Seeing the best in people.

No one would ever guess ... I have never seen “Star Wars”

What is your biggest accomplishment? Graduating with my BA in Marketing from Portland State University. I am the first in my family to obtain a college degree.

What is your biggest challenge? Hitting the snooze button only once in the morning

What is your favorite movie? “Mulan” and “White Chicks”

What’s your favorite song? I enjoy listening to a variety of genres but “Hey Ya” by Outkast, “My Immortal” by Evanescence, and “I Want to Hold Your Hand” by The Beatles are a few of my favorites.

What are your hobbies? Cooking new recipes, watching Netflix, and trying out new restaurants.

What’s on your bucket list? Learning to speak Mandarin.

What is your favorite quote/words to live by? “Always be a first-rate version of yourself and not a second-rate version of someone else.” — Judy Garland

If you could meet any public figure, living or departed, who would it be and why? Michael Jackson, he had such a unique perspective on life and I would love to have a conversation with him.

What was your favorite childhood TV show? Recess

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go and why? Ireland and Scotland. There is something that seems so romantic about those countries, or maybe I have seen Leap Year and P.S. I Love You too many times.

SUPPORT OUR CAMPUS.
BUY ON CAMPUS.

When you support the services that are owned and operated by the Cal Poly Pomona Foundation, you help students obtain on-campus jobs, and help fund scholarships, campus programs and educational grants. Foundation enterprises include Dining Services, the Bronco Bookstore, the University Village and Kellogg West Conference Center & Hotel.

As the largest employer of students on campus, the Foundation offers valuable work experience and hands-on training to approximately 1,500 Cal Poly Pomona students each year. The Foundation offers positions in various fields; whether it is in the area of technology, science, retail, culinary arts, hospitality management, leadership or research grants, these student employees participate in Cal Poly Pomona’s learn-by-doing philosophy and acquire practical skills in their designated field of study.

The Foundation also contributes operating support to nearly 1,100 Foundation and scholarship programs every year, including Bronco Athletics and the Norman J. Priest Scholarship. In addition, the Foundation administers grants and contracts, contributes to campus security, and supports several university publications. The Foundation contributes over $1 million annually to Cal Poly Pomona.

Because of your support, the Foundation is able to provide these beneficial services every year. Thank you for making your purchases on campus and contributing to the success of Cal Poly Pomona students and the university community.
