Verenice has been an employee at Innovation Brew Works for four months and has proven herself to be a valuable asset to our team. She has a stellar attendance record, a continuously positive attitude and an eagerness to learn new tasks.

Verenice is an Environmental Studies major at Chaffey College and hopes to one day transfer to Cal Poly Pomona. Her goal upon graduation is to work in wildlife conservation and rehabilitation. In addition to her schooling and job at Innovation Brew Works, Verenice also runs her own mobile pet nail trimming business.

5 Relaxation Tips for Stress Relief

Courtesy of Verywell Mind

1) Breathing Exercises

These can be your first line of defense against stress. Breathing exercises are wonderful for relaxation because they can be used anytime and at any place, they work quickly and are easy to master.

2) Meditation

Many people try meditation and find that it's a wonderful relaxation tool. Many others consider trying it, or try it a few times, and decide it's not for them. If you're in the second group, you may want to consider giving meditation another look – it's excellent for relaxation as well as developing a more positive attitude and, if practiced long-term, greater resilience toward stress.

3) Music

Playing music is a great way to relieve stress and promote relaxation for your family and friends as well as yourself. (Okay, maybe your co-workers won't enjoy hearing your tunes as much as you do, so perhaps this one is best saved for home and in the car.) Because music brings real benefits in terms of wellness (music therapy is a growing field), it can be conveniently used effectively for relaxation as well.

4) Exercise

It may seem that exercise is the opposite of relaxation, but a good workout can actually make you feel more relaxed afterward for a few reasons. First, working out can be a good way to release stress and blow off steam. Second, the endorphins released during a good workout can aid relaxation quite nicely. Additionally, exercise can get you into a state of flow where it's difficult to stay stressed – your body has to move toward relaxation as your stress response begins to reverse.

5) Have Fun!

Yes, these relaxation methods don't all have to be clinical and practiced. Letting loose and having fun with your family and friends is an excellent way to relieve stress and experience relaxation. The problem is that people don't always prioritize plain old "fun" as an important part of life – they don't fit time for it in their busy schedules (at least not nearly as much as they should) because they don't realize the value of fun for balance as well as physical and emotional health. Well, now is the time to start working more fun into your life.

If you focus on stress management regularly, in a relatively short time, you can learn to more easily relax when you need to, and build resilience toward stress.

Foundation Dining Services Participates in Farm to Table Event

Operations Brew Manager Eric Bassett and Culinary Development Manager Tonya Tardd presented at the Huntley College of Agriculture's Fifth Annual Farm to Table Spring Harvest Dinner on Saturday, April 27. The Farm to Table Spring Harvest Dinner honored Susan Kellogg-Bell and celebrated agriculture and food. The event also featured local chefs cooking meals with locally sourced ingredients.

Bassett and Tardd discussed Foundation Dining Services and the different ways that the Foundation incorporates farm to table elements on campus.

Foundation Donates to the University Library

The Foundation donated Cal Poly Pomona Farm Store gift bags and gift cards to the Golden Leaves Ceremony for University Authors.

Since 1986, the Golden Leaves Program, which is funded by the Cal Poly Pomona University Library, has celebrated members of the Cal Poly Pomona campus community who have authored or edited a book in the preceding year.

Note of Appreciation:

I know that due to limited time, I wasn't able to share all that I would like to have, but I hope what I did share was well and good and that someone in the audience can either benefit from my presentation and/or my book. Again, thank you and go Broncos!

Sincerely,

When you support the services that are owned and operated by the Cal Poly Pomona Foundation, you help students obtain on-campus jobs, and help fund scholarships, campus programs and educational grants. Foundation enterprises include Dining Services, the Bronco Bookstore, the University Village and Kellogg West Conference Center & Hotel.

As the largest employer of students on campus, the Foundation offers valuable work experience and hands-on training to approximately 1,500 Cal Poly Pomona students each year. The Foundation offers positions in various fields; whether it is in the area of technology, science, retail, culinary arts, hospitality management, leadership or research grants, these student employees participate in Cal Poly Pomona's learn-by-doing philosophy and acquire practical skills in their designated field of study.

The Foundation also contributes operating support to nearly 1,100 Foundation and scholarship programs every year, including Bronco Athletics and the Norman J. Priest Scholarship. In addition, the Foundation administers grants and contracts, contributes to campus security, and supports several university publications. The Foundation contributes over $1 million annually to Cal Poly Pomona.

Because of your support, the Foundation is able to provide these beneficial services every year. Thank you for making your purchases on campus and contributing to the success of Cal Poly Pomona students and the university community.
